MAGIC MOMENTS – THE SPELL OF NATURE

50' (ENG, GER)

Whether it's night or day, the northern or southern hemisphere, irrespective of the season or the precise location – our planet's natural world produces truly magical moments all year round.

This Terra Mater documentary presents spectacular natural occurrences from across the globe. Following both, the course of a regular day and the changing of the seasons, the film captures a visually imposing kaleidoscope of stunning natural events.

It is hardly surprising that humans remain so fascinated by the wonders that surround us. After all, we are an integral part of the spell of nature, and our lives are inseparable from the world's many different natural spectacles, occurrences, and unforgettable magic moments...
