

THE WORLD IN 30 MINUTES

A DANCE TEACHER CONQUERS ASIA

30'

Dirk Bastert used to be a professional dancer and world champion; now the 40-year-old travels the world on a dance mission.

Having initially achieved success as a dance teacher in Germany, he's now conquering the dance floors of Asia, step by step. He teaches in Thailand, Singapore, Brunei and Malaysia. The doc accompanies the dance instructor to Bangkok. This is where the largest Thai dance tournament, the Royal Siam, is held. Dirk is on the sidelines as a judge, but also as a coach and trainer too.

Fotos: ©WDR

Original Title: Leben im Dreivierteltakt - Ein Tanzlehrer erobert Asien

Year: 2013

Produced by: WDR, Weltweit

ASIA

