Norway's Algae - Sustainable Superfood

HD

› 30' (GER, ENG subs) › 2022 › NZZ

In 2050, the earth will have to feed two billion more people than it does today. How can this be done without overstraining the planet? Algae, the most nutritious and healthy plants, are a promising resource for our future nutrition. Norwegians have rediscovered this potential and are harvesting wild algae or cultivating them in aquaculture for the food market. They do pioneering work every day, because research into algae cultivation is still in its infancy.

Energy of the Future: Hydrogen

HD

› 30' (GER, ENG subs) › 2022 › WDR

By 2050, 230 million households are to be supplied with green electricity from the North Sea - at least that's according to an ambitious agreement reached by Germany, Belgium, Denmark and the Netherlands. In addition, green hydrogen is to be produced in the future on platforms in the North Sea, where gas and oil are still being extracted today. A complex energy transformation is also imminent in Namibia. A story that gives hope in a time with so much bad news.

Wild Winds - Destructive Storms through Climate Change

HD

› 30' (GER, ENG subs) › 2022 › NZZ

The world faces strong storms, and weather models have calculated that there will be more and more of them in the future. In France, residents are thinking about moving from the coastal area. Mountain forests are also in danger; they can no longer withstand heat and storms. Without forests, the inhabitants are defenceless against rockfalls and avalanches. In Switzerland, therefore, a globally unique experiment is underway: the search for the forest of the future.

Logging the Rainforest - Sustainable Forestry

HD

› 30' (GER) › 2022 › NZZ

Gabon is a natural paradise: 80 percent of the country is rainforest. So far, the country has made a living from oil, but now Environment Minister Lee White wants to label Gabon as a green country. Gabon wants to develop the rainforest economically without destroying it. On the contrary - the felling should protect nature and the climate and make Gabon independent of the petroleum industry. We get to the bottom of the question of whether deforestation and nature conservation really go together. Because critics say that every felled tree is one too many.

Finland - Next-Door to Dangerous Russia

HD

› 30' (GER, ENG subs) › 2022 › NZZ

Finland has never skimped on its own defence. For decades, all sectors of society have been preparing for a conflict with Russia. And yet, for the first time, there is a majority in favor of joining NATO. It is a radical change in terms of security policy and self-image, and there is a reason for that: what Ukraine is going through today, the Finns experienced in 1939. Finnish journalist Saila Huusko never felt threatened - until February 2022. She travels through her country and meets people who are adapting to the new threat in different ways.

Climate Saviour Mangroves

HD

› 30' (GER, ENG subs) › 2022 › NZZ

Mangroves are one of the most productive and biodiverse ecosystems on earth, growing where conditions are deadly for other plants. They protect coasts from floods and hurricanes, and store five times more CO2 than other trees. But since the 1980s, more than a third of global mangrove populations have disappeared. This has dramatic consequences for the environment and the inhabitants of the coasts. In Mexico, for instance, fish stocks are shrinking and the basis of life is disappearing - for people and animals. But hope still remains.

To the Very Last Drop

HD

› 30' (GER, ENG subs) › 2022 › NZZ

In South Africa, more than 50% of the population has no access to clean drinking water. A problem that affects many regions of the world. Corruption, climate change, broken infrastructure - these are the core causes that contribute to the bad drinking water supplies in South Africa. We accompany people who are fighting against water scarcity and for a fair water supply in South Africa. While scientists and activists try to get more say in politics with the help of crowd-sourced science, an investigator shows how corruption systematically runs through the water sector.

Colombia's Wayuu: Their Fight against Coal Giants

HD

› 30' (GER, ENG subs) › 2022 › NZZ

In Colombia, the indigenous Wayuu people have traditionally lived from fishing and the land for centuries. The families, settled in the immediate surroundings of Latin America's largest coal mine, are fighting for their ancestral territory. But despite the lucrative mine, the local population lives in poverty. Promises have still not been fulfilled 40 years later. Instead, the fishermen are increasingly deprived of prey and have no access to their only source of fresh water. But the Wayuus are not giving up and are fighting for their homelands.

Ugly Veg – The Food-Waste Fiasco

HD

› 30' (GER, ENG subs) › 2020 › WDR

12 million tons of food are thrown away every year in Germany, the majority from private households. Activists search supermarket trash containers in the middle of the night. What will they find whilst “dumperster diving”? Originally packaged food, still edible. They often distribute to the needy what they take out of the garbage cans. What the self-proclaimed food salvagers do is just a drop in the ocean; in the end, it comes down to politics. But they are changing our awareness of the question: is food too good to throw away?

The Art of Inkblots - The Man Behind the Rorschach Test

HD

› 30' (GER, ENG subs) › 2022 › NZZ

In the early 20th century, Rorschach developed a projective psychological test that would shape psychiatry worldwide after his death. The Rorschach test is a result of its time, with influences from the directions of psychology at the time. Over the years, the test became pop culture and it has been trivialized to an extent. In meetings with Rorschach experts, we take a closer look at the design aspects of the boards.

How to communicate as a society

HD

› 30' (GER, ENG subs) › 2021 › NZZ

Inequalities are growing and the realities of life are moving further apart, while the challenges to our coexistence are increasing rapidly. How can we counteract the fragmentation of society and still get our act together in time? The answer: We have to talk to each other - because meeting, exchanging and discussing other opinions are the foundations of a democratic society. But communication often takes place only within one's own filter bubble. New ideas are needed to make society happen again.

Lonely Together: Loneliness in the Digital Age

HD

› 30' (GER, ENG subs) › 2021 › NZZ

More and more people feel lonely, especially young people say they suffer from loneliness. Loneliness is a subjective feeling that is hard to grasp and difficult for many outsiders to understand. We talk to young people about their loneliness, look into the reasons, and how one can overcome loneliness.

How transparent are we online?

HD

› 30' (GER, ENG subs) › 2022 › NZZ

We are constantly using computers and our smartphones, delivering vast amounts of information about ourselves to the internet non-stop. This creates an ever more detailed profile of our actions, movements and desires. As a result, artificial intelligence often already knows more about us than we are aware of ourselves. They can already predict future actions and thereby influence our decisions. What happens to our data, who has access to it and in which direction are we moving in digital space? Do we have any privacy at all?

Bloodlust - The Desire to Kill

HD

› 30' (GER, ENG subs) › 2021 › NZZ

What makes a person a murderer? Is it a matter of genetics or social conditioning? These are questions that not only scientists ask themselves, but also crime and true-crime fans. We talk to a court reporter and crime writer about fiction and reality in her worst murder case. We meet a neuroscientist who studies the brains of psychopaths and ask a murderer how he became one.

The Future of...

HD

› 3 x 30' (GER, ENG subs) › 2021 › WDR

Sustainability is no longer just a buzz word. It has to become a reality. With climate change, we need to rethink our habits in a variety of areas. How can we make our future world more sustainable? Together with sustainability expert Shia Su, we explore the future of how we will live and eat and how we can turn our throwaway society upside down.

Seychelles – Paradise under Threat

HD

› 30' (ENG, GER) › 2022 › WDR

A vacation in the Seychelles - or even a wedding? This is the dream for many, especially Germans, who top the guest list at this island archipelago. We show the beauty of the island, with its rare animal species, happy wedding couples and white beaches. And yet: This is a paradise under threat, you can see the signs of climate change, with broken shorelines and bleached corals. Although the Seychelles has only 0.13 percent of Germany's land area, its new marine reserve is larger than the Federal Republic: A dream for the conservationists.

Czacz – The Recycling Village

HD

› 30' (GER, ENG subs) › 2021 › WDR

A whole village near Poznan lives from collecting and recycling bulky waste. They refurbish discarded furniture, electrical appliances and decorations and sell them again - at a profit. Not only the old things, but also more and more customers come from Germany or Belgium. However, the Corona pandemic is giving the whole village a hard time; many are afraid that the virus will destroy their successful business model.

Modern Farming – Conserving Alpine Fauna

HD

› 30' (GER, ENG subs) › 2021 › NZZ

The Alpine region is home to 30,000 animals and 13,000 plants. Climate change, urbanisation, mass tourism as well as industrial forms of agriculture and globalisation are threatening biodiversity in the Alps and thus the livelihood of alpine farmers. But how can sustainable agriculture be shaped that can preserve this unique biodiversity? We meet the new generation of farmers, chefs, and gourmets who all have a common goal: the preservation of Alpine diversity.

Femicide: The Forgotten Victims

HD

› 30' (GER, ENG subs) › 2022 › NZZ

Every three days, a man kills a woman in the UK. But, the perpetrators are rarely strangers. In fact, most victims know their killer, and may even have loved him. The greatest danger for women in England and around the world is not lurking in the streets. It is waiting at home. The film tells the story of the forgotten victims as well as the survivors of domestic violence and shows that in many cases femicides are not inevitable acts of passion, but planned murders that follow a clear pattern.

The White Spot - South Africa's Virgins

HD

› 30' (GER, ENG subs) › 2021 › NZZ

In the multi-ethnic state of South Africa, traditions are gaining more and more importance. One of them is the virginity test, in which women and girls are examined for an intact hymen. Critics see this as an encroachment on women's and children's rights, while traditionalists insist on their right to culture. We accompany young South African women in search of their place in a society that is largely patriarchal in structure and at the same time has one of the most progressive constitutions in the world - on paper, at least.

Psychology of Miscarriages

HD

› 30' (GER, ENG subs) › 2021 › NZZ

At least every sixth pregnancy ends in a miscarriage. Many women don't dare to speak openly about it, because often society does not recognize the scope of the loss, does not consider the women and men concerned as grieving parents who have lost their child. There is often a lack of knowledge and time to react appropriately to the shock of the respective woman, to acknowledge the loss of a child and to inform calmly. Couples who feel well cared for and treated well will cope much better with a miscarriage, but such situation are far too rare.

La Bestia - By Death Train to the USA

HD

› 30' (GER, ENG subs) › 2021 › NZZ

"La Bestia" is the dangerous goods train that migrants jump on to get from the south of Mexico to the U.S. border. Most of them come from El Salvador, Guatemala and Honduras and cannot afford a bus ticket or a smuggler. Travelling by train is the fastest way for them to reach the USA, but also the most dangerous. Many people fall off the train, land on the tracks, are run over, mutilated and robbed or raped by criminal gangs. Nevertheless, people make their way to a hopefully better life in the USA.

Storming the Capitol - Police under Threat

HD

› 30' (ENG, GER) › 2021 › NZZ

On January 6, 2021, a mob stormed the Capitol and the world wondered how this could happen. A team of online researchers, the police and relatives of three police officers that were badly injured set out on a search for clues. They encounter explosive details and within the footage of thousands of videos, the team finds traces of the specific Trump supporters who attacked the police officers. Finding out what exactly happened that day is a relief for the police officers and their families. But not all scars heal.

Russia - From Manager to Village Teacher

HD

› 30' (GER, ENG subs) › 2021 › WDR

He was a manager in an international corporation. High earnings, company car, many trips abroad. A life on a mapped track, a dream job for many young Russians. But Nikolai Stopnewitsch gave up to become a village teacher. For a tenth of his previous salary. Why does he do this? What drives him to take this step, which his friends understand and his father condemns?

ARTE Re: The Boom of Ghost Hunters

HD

› 30' (GER) › 2022 › Kobalt, arte

Since the beginning of the Corona pandemic, a growing number of people in Europe have been concerned with paranormal phenomena. The number of alleged ghost sightings has risen sharply. "Afterlife researchers" and Ghost Hunters are booming. Is it all just imagination - or is there another reality after all? We go on a paranormal search hunting ghosts in Austria and England.

ARTE Re: A Rally against Boredom

HD

› 30' (GER) › 2022 › Kobalt, arte

On icy roads and frozen lakes, the Finns drive races with converted junk cars in an amateur rally series. More important than winning for most of them is the community and the opportunity to escape boredom for at least one day. Because boredom lurks everywhere in the everyday life of the Finnish province, especially in winter.

ARTE Re: Dropouts on La Gomera - Part 2

HD

› 30' (GER) › 2022 › Kobalt, arte

In 2018, "ARTE Re:" reported on a hippie commune on the Spanish isle of La Gomera. Now we continue to tell their story. What has become of the cave hippies? Some have changed their lives completely in the meantime. But the model of a simple and free existence has become even more attractive through Corona - and new hippies have arrived.

ARTE Re: War in Ukraine

HD

› 30' (GER) › 2022 › Kobalt, arte

Russian troops have been bombarding Ukraine since the early hours of February 24, 2022. Vladimir Putin's war of aggression has forced hundreds of thousands of Ukrainian civilians to flee to neighboring Poland, Romania and Moldova. However, many Ukrainians do not want to flee from the missiles; they consciously decide to stay and defend their homeland.

ARTE Re: Garbage Collectors of the Bosphorus

HD

› 30' (GER) › 2022 › Kobalt, arte

Plastic bottles, cardboard boxes, copper and aluminum - the garbage collectors of large Turkish cities earn their daily bread from what others throw away. They fulfill a central task, because the state hardly cares about recycling household waste. Nevertheless, as the Turkish government clears more and more of the small garbage depots, the waste collectors are left with nothing.

ARTE Re: Life on the Aran Islands

HD

› 30' (GER) › 2022 › Kobalt, arte

Less than two percent of Irish people still speak fluent Irish Gaelic, and the language is on the verge of extinction. But a school on the Aran Islands - a group of islands just 50 kilometers off the west coast of Ireland - wants to prevent this. Here, young Irish people are still able to learn Gaelic.

ARTE Re: Entrance Fee to the Mediterranean - Dispute over Access to Italy's Coastline

HD

› 30' (GER) › 2022 › Kobalt, arte

Beach management is a lucrative business in Italy. While the desired state beach concessions were previously granted arbitrarily and even passed on over generations, the EU is now demanding a re-allocation. While beach operators fear for their monopoly position, citizens hope that they will finally be allowed to go to the sea - without having to pay dearly for it.

ARTE Re: Cannabis for Everyone - Germany's Road to Legalization

HD

› 30' (GER) › 2022 › Kobalt, arte

It's a spectacular project by the German government: cannabis is to be legalized. It's giving startup entrepreneurs grass-green dreams of the future and lobbyists full diaries - behind the scenes, the industry is staking its claims for a multi-billion market. But the road to legalization as a stimulant still holds many challenges ...

ARTE Re: Dispute over Stonehenge - King Arthur and the Car Tunnel

HD

› 30' (GER) › 2022 › Kobalt, arte

A dispute has flared up in Great Britain over the UNESCO World Heritage Site Stonehenge. The highway that runs directly along the stone circles is to be expanded into a double-lane car tunnel. While local residents welcome the construction project as an improvement, druids and archaeologists are sounding the alarm.

ARTE Re: Barcelona's Citizen Patrol

HD

› 30' (GER) › 2022 › Kobalt, arte

Barcelona is popular - not only with tourists, but also with criminals. In the last three years alone, the number of crimes has risen by a quarter. Many residents no longer feel safe. They join forces and hunt down pickpockets - but this puts them in the police's sights. Is this legitimate self-defense or illegal vigilante justice?

ARTE Re: Women on the Run - Between Hope and Violence

HD

› 30' (GER) › 2022 › Kobalt, arte

Worldwide, more than 84 million people were displaced in 2021. Contrary to public perception, around half of them are women and girls. Due to sexual violence, children traveling with them, pregnancy and menstruation, they have different refugee experiences and needs than men. But so far, there are hardly any aid programs specifically for women.

ARTE Re: Prepping Sweden - A State prepares for Emergency Case

HD

› 30' (GER) › 2022 › Kobalt, arte

Since the annexation of Crimea in 2014 at the latest, the fear of a Russian invasion has been real in Sweden. And since Russia's invasion of Ukraine, it has become ever greater. The government is therefore preparing the population for a worst-case scenario and wants to educate its citizens to become so-called preppers.

ARTE Re: My Dog is vegan - Meatless pet food

HD

› 30' (GER) › 2022 › Kobalt, arte

Veganism is a trend. Not only with humans. More and more dog owners are also feeding their four-legged friends a meat-free diet. This fits in well with the zeitgeist and is good for the climate. But is it also species-appropriate?

ARTE Re: Agnes and Amir - Flat Share with a 101-year-old

HD

› 30' (GER) › 2022 › Kobalt, arte

Agnes Jeschke is 101 years old. Amir Farahani, 28, fled from Iran. If the young man had not moved in with Agnes, she would have had to go into a nursing home. Instead, at more than 100 years old, she has found not only a roommate but also a best friend. "We get along like two left feet," says Agnes, with her endearing Berliner charm.

ARTE Re: Wind turbines in the Aegean Sea - Dispute over Greece's Green Future

HD

› 30' (GER) › 2022 › Kobalt, arte

Greece wants to phase out coal by the end of the decade and at the same time massively increase the share of renewable energies in electricity generation. As a result, more and more wind farms are being built on the islands in the Aegean Sea, especially on Euboea, at the expense of nature and culture. But many residents no longer want to accept this step forward.

ARTE Re: Families and their Tarewell to an Unborn Child

HD

› 30' (GER) › 2022 › Kobalt, arte

Worldwide, there are around 23 million miscarriages every year - that's 44 every minute. For many pregnant women, a miscarriage or still-birth is a traumatic experience. But the subject is still a taboo in society, and women feel left alone with their sometimes traumatic experiences. Some of those who are affected now want to change that.

ARTE Re: Foreign home Serbia - Deportation to Nowhere

HD

› 30' (GER) › 2022 › Kobalt, arte

Around 2,000 people were deported from Germany to Serbia in 2020 or they returned voluntarily. Some of the returnees lived in Germany for more than ten years, grew up there or were even born there - and now they have to find a way to get along in Serbia, often without any passport papers - in a country that is completely foreign to them.

ARTE Re: Help from Alternative Practitioners - Danger or Alternative Medicine?

HD

› 30' (GER) › 2022 › Kobalt, arte

While conventional doctors in Germany have to study for years, including examinations before they are allowed to practice, prospective non-medical practitioners only need to pass an examination at the public health office. This does not diminish their popularity with patients. But criticism of their training is growing louder.

ARTE Re: Living with the Lava - No Rest for La Palma

HD

› 30' (GER) › 2021 › Kobalt, arte

The volcanic eruption of the "Cumbre Vieja" on La Palma is a natural phenomenon. However, the spectacle robs many of the islanders of their possessions and livelihood. Even weeks after the first eruption, the volcano does not come to rest and many people are at the end of their strength. And the problems on the island continue to grow.

ARTE Re: Survival amongst Islamists - The Taliban in Power

HD

› 30' (GER) › 2021 › Kobalt, arte

Immediately after the Taliban seized power, "ARTE Re:" reported in August on local forces of the German Armed Forces in panic and Afghans who looked to the future full of fear. Six weeks later, the team is back on the ground to find out what became of them. How are Wahed, the interpreter and his family? A dispute is also raging in Germany about Wahed's fate.

ARTE Re: Vacation on Four Wheels - The Camping Boom

HD

› 30' (GER) › 2021 › Kobalt, arte

Just under 80,000 motor homes were newly registered in Germany in 2020, 45 percent more than in the previous year. This number could continue to rise, because in times of Corona, traveling in one's own four walls is considered one of the safest ways to take a vacation. We accompany beginners and professionals traveling in a van or motorhome throughout Europe.

ARTE Re: Help for Romania's Street Dogs - A New Home for Number 4433

HD

› 30' (GER) › 2021 › Kobalt, arte

The Smeura in Romania is the largest private animal shelter in the world. Around 5,500 street dogs live there, all rescued from state-run shelters. There, the animals are to be killed after 14 days if no one picks them up. So says the so-called killing law, which has been in force since 2013.

ARTE Re: Vegan Top Cuisine - Radical Change for France's Gastronomy

HD

› 30' (GER) › 2021 › Kobalt, arte

At the beginning of 2021, the "ONA" near Bordeaux became the first vegan restaurant in France to receive a Michelin star. A sensation. Up to now, the gastronomy and politics have successfully defended the country's meat-heavy top cuisine against all innovations. Is the world-famous French haute cuisine about to undergo a radical change?

ARTE Re: The Taliban in Kabul - Afghan Civilians in Danger

HD

› 30' (GER) › 2021 › Kobalt, arte

On August 15, 2021, Kabul falls into the hands of the Taliban. After twenty years, the coalition forces' mission in Afghanistan ends in disaster. And leaves behind countless desperate people and even more broken promises.

ARTE Re: Thirsty Avocados - New Monocultures in Portugal's South

HD

› 30' (GER) › 2021 › Kobalt, arte

Ever since the avocado has been considered the "meat of the vegans" and a new "superfood," its cultivation has been increasing worldwide. The downside: chronic water shortages are rapidly increasing because of the thirsty avocado plantations. One of the few climatically suitable regions for cultivation in Europe is the south of Portugal. Local residents and small farmers no longer want to put up with this.

ARTE Re: Corona and the Pet Boom

HD

› 30' (GER) › 2021 › Kobalt, arte

Corona makes you lonely: Couldn't a dog, a cat or even a monkey keep you company? The result: after a year of the Corona crisis, one million more pets are living under German roofs than before the pandemic. But reputable breeders can no longer satisfy the huge demand. Dubious traders are stepping in - a battle is raging between animal traders and animal welfare activists.

ARTE Re: France Vs Amazon - Dispute over Online Trading

HD

› 30' (GER) › 2021 › Kobalt, arte

During the Corona crisis, online retail has boomed. The top dog among the competitors is Amazon. In order to be able to deliver any product within the shortest possible time, the company is building huge warehouses around the world. In France, opposition is now rising, claiming that Amazon is destroying retail jobs and paying hardly any taxes in the country.

ARTE Re: The Cattle must go! - Dutch Farmers & the Climate Crisis

HD

› 30' (GER) › 2021 › Kobalt, arte

Agriculture, and livestock farming in particular, emits twice as much nitrogen in the Netherlands as transport and industry combined. No wonder, since the Netherlands is the world's second-largest exporter of agricultural products after the United States, even though the United States is 300 times larger in size. There are about four million cattle, twelve million pigs and 100 million chickens in the small country, too many in regards to climate change. The cattle must go...

ARTE Re: Washing, cutting, disinfecting - Back to the Hairdresser

HD

› 30' (GER) › 2021 › Kobalt, arte

On March 1, 2021, around 80,000 hair salons in Germany were allowed to reopen after ten weeks of forced closure due to the pandemic. People are lining up after the gray winter months in lockdown. Many are longing not only for a new haircut, but also for sorely missed conversations with their regular hairdresser - and all together for a touch of normality.

ARTE Re: On the Slopes with Corona - Ski chaos in the Alps

HD

› 30' (GER) › 2021 › Kobalt, arte

Ski tourism suffers greatly from Corona. Each Alpine country is imposing different measures to contain the pandemic, causing confusion among skiers. Which country has the best strategy for preventing the spread of the virus without ruining the economy?

ARTE Re: Escape from Hong Kong - A New Life in British Exile

HD

› 30' (GER) › 2021 › Kobalt, arte

They couldn't be more different: Young politician Nathan Law, real estate expert Finn Lau, ex-consulate employee Simon Cheng and photographer Jim Wong. And yet, the four Hong Kongers share a common fate: they all live in exile in London. From there, they fight for democracy in their old homeland - and for a new life abroad.

ARTE Re: Green Care - Retirement with Chicken and Cow

HD

› 30' (GER) › 2021 › Kobalt, arte

At the age of 74, Heinz-Dieter Herper begins a new phase in his life. He moves to a farm. "Green Care" is the name of the trend from Scandinavia that combines care for the elderly with farming. In view of the struggle for survival of countless small farms combined with advancing demographic change, is this an ideal solution for both sides?

ARTE Re: World's Best Hay

HD

› 30' (GER) › 2021 › Kobalt, arte

In southern France, the world's most expensive hay is produced with the help of large amounts of water and sold internationally to stud farms. Authorities and environmentalists want to make the farmers save water. But they are fighting back.

ARTE Re: Burnout in Nursing

HD

› 30' (GER) › 2021 › Kobalt, arte

The years-long nursing shortage in hospitals was acutely observed by Germans during the pandemic. Nurses worked 12-hour shifts until they were completely exhausted. Politicians stood by and did nothing. The consequences are now slowly becoming visible: More and more nurses are becoming patients themselves because of burnout.

ARTE Re: Canary Islands - The New Moria?

HD

› 30' (GER) › 2021 › Kobalt, arte

The Canary Islands are becoming the new focal point of the European refugee crisis. Thousands of migrants are stranded on the islands, in some cases under questionable conditions, as the authorities are completely overwhelmed. Residents fear for the islands' reputation as a vacation paradise. Is a new Moria looming?

ARTE RE:

Surviving the Holocaust

HD

› 30' (GER, FRE) › 2020 › WDR, arte

Italy's Fight Against Rural Exodus

HD

› 30' (GER, FRE) › 2021 › Kobalt, arte

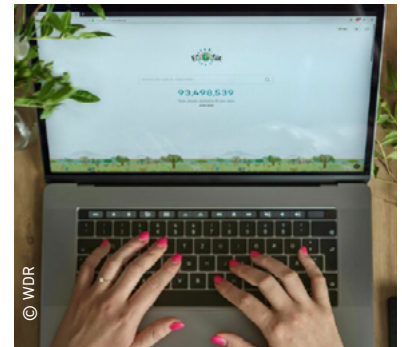

A third of Italy's villages and small towns are threatened with extinction unless they succeed in attracting new residents. Some are now trying to create new incentives with unusual projects. The municipality of Teora in Campania pays rent to new residents for two years if their children go to school in the town. Mussomeli in Sicily, on the other hand, sells its houses in the old town for just one euro. What works better?

Stop being Greedy

HD

› 30' (GER, FRE) › 2020 › WDR, arte

They want to do something good with their profits. More and more entrepreneurs and founders are striving for more than personal wealth. Many company CEOs in the so-called Purpose movement are taking a radical approach: they expropriate themselves and use a foundation model to ensure: shareholders can no longer withdraw profits, the company cannot be sold and the purpose of the company cannot be changed.

Eating Radically Local

HD

› 30' (GER, FRE) › 2020 › WDR, arte

A region's ability to be independently sustainable has been a popular concept for a long time - especially when it comes to food. However, in Corona times, more and more consumers are questioning the consequences of globalization and its non-transparent supply chains. These people want to be able to produce, harvest, and consume within their region. The idea of becoming self-sufficient and not dependent on any supermarket is not just a dream of many consumers.

Berlin's Mobile Vet

HD

› 30' (GER, FRE) › 2020 › WDR, arte

The goal is to get in touch with the homeless youth and offer them an alternative long-term way of life. We accompany the dedicated veterinarian and experience unforgettable stories of people forgotten in society.

Us and Zelenskyy

HD

› 30' (GER, FRE) › 2020 › WDR, arte

Five years after the war began, internationally displaced persons (IDP) in Ukraine are still facing major challenges. But now, under the new president Zelenskyy, a turnaround could come under his administration that plans to help IDPs. Although many people hope for this outcome, a large amount remain skeptical. We showcase the difficulties of integration in society, even though the refugees already remain within the country's borders. Refugees guide us on their journeys to rescue close relatives from war zones. Will anything really change under Zelenskyy?

Southern Europe on Fire

HD

› 30' (GER, ENG subs) › 2021 › NZZ

Every summer, thousands of hectares of forest and land are burning. Fire-fighting aircraft and firefighters barely manage to bring these mega-fires under control. The number of fires has doubled in the last 12 years. More than 90% of them are man-made. Many scientists are therefore calling for less investment in fighting fires and more in prevention. Portugal and Spain show how fire is fought with fire - while in Sicily citizens stand alone on the fire front.

The Rise of Slow Fashion

HD

› 30' (GER, ENG subs) › 2020 › NZZ

A daunting estimate of 100 billion new clothing pieces are produced every year. The term "fast fashion" describes the trend of buying a new collection of clothing every week. Always more, always faster, and always cheaper. The "slow fashion" movement is fighting against this overexploitation, and it is gaining a strong following. The pressure is growing on manufacturers who mercilessly profit from fast fashion. Do we have to rethink fashion? Learn about the enormous resource consumption, and the passionate consumers who demand change.

Islands of plastic in the oceans, piles of burning plastic waste in illegal landfills, and even microplastics in our bodies. Plastic has become a major problem, and Germany is the European plastic waste champion. This is no secret, but if everyone has known for years how harmful plastic is to the environment, why is it so omnipresent?

Waste Water: Turning Sewage into Profit

HD

› 30' (GER, ENG subs) › 2020 › NZZ

We flush the toilet five to eight times a day. It rarely crosses our minds that the waste contains many valuable resources. Sewage treatment plants extract many of the important minerals from the water using complex processes, but it is very difficult to do. The problem is that liquid and solid matter end up together in the toilet. The process of separating them in the sewage plant is very expensive and challenging. That's why the future lies with separate toilets. Wastewater is not only a source for minerals, it can become an early warning system for local virus hotspots.

Cruises: The Boom and its Dark Side

HD

› 30' (GER) › 2018 › NZZ

Cruisings are a booming industry, but the resistance against the floating towns is growing. Venice wants to ban the big ships from the historic city. Environmental organizations criticize the high pollutant emissions of the luxury liners, that pollute the oceans with oil. This is why more and more companies are focusing on sustainability: liquefied gas propulsion, efficient energy management and measures against food waste are to get cruise ships out of the negative headlines. Are these just fine words or is something really changing?

Organ Trafficking

They are forbidden yet seductive. Drugs have always raised a certain level of fascination and curiosity, and every day, more people give into this fascination. Although the production, distribution, and consumption are prohibited in almost every country in the world, there have never been more drugs in circulation than today. The "war on drugs" declared by the USA in 1972 seems to have failed, but Portugal may be on track to a solution. What else can be done? Is a legislation that legalizes all drugs realistic, and what would be the consequences?

Daily life in large European cities is wonderful, although very expensive for such a small living space. We take a look at this situation in Amsterdam. Wendy has been looking for a new place to live since she was separated from her husband. Many aspects of her life remain in Amsterdam Oost, such as her job, friends, hobbies, and the schools of her two children. But can she stay? The 52-year old earns a good living and could afford an apartment in the Dutch metropolis, if only there were any offers.

Kippas, Churches and the Koran: Jerusalem and its Conflicts

HD

> 30' (GER) > 2019 > NZZ

For centuries Jews, Christians and Muslims have been wrestling with the historically charged birthplace of the three Abrahamic religions. For all three Jerusalem is a center of their faith. The old town is just one square kilometre in size and is divided into quarters that are based on religions. But Jewish settlers are increasingly occupying empty houses in the Muslim quarter. The tensions are fuelled by the political conflict between Israelis and Palestinians.

The New Silk Road: China's Reach for Global Power

12-year-old Ole is excited. Did his six bee colonies survive the long winter? The spring air buzzes with bees, who seem to be very lively and active. Now he has to be careful that his colonies don't fly away. He came to beekeeping with honey bees through a school project. "You don't own bees, the bees own you," explains the young beekeeper, who has long infected his whole family with his enthusiasm. Even as a young boy he observed the wild bees in the garden and is now worried about them.

Senegal's Battle for Land

HD

› 30' (GER) › 2018 › WDR

Saint-Louis is considered the "Venice of Africa" and a UNESCO World Heritage Site. But the coastal city in northern Senegal has a major problem: entire stretches of coast are washed away. In recent months, more than 800 people have had to flee. Because the sea is eroding the beach, the administration is planning to relocate up to 10,000 inhabitants of the old French colonial city. And often the poor are affected, like the fishing families. They now live in tents, miles away from the sea.

Zurich: Magnet, Metropolis, Model City

HD

› 30' (GER) › 2016 › NZZ

Zurich is considered to be one of the cities with the highest quality of life and sees itself as the smallest metropolis in the world. Since the turn of the century, Zurich has been one of the fastest growing cities in Europe. The city is known as a financial center. But today, Zurich is increasingly represented as a center of knowledge and research and is the undisputed center of Switzerland. One third of its inhabitants are foreigners, and more and more people are making their way to the city. How does the city deal with its success and how has this success changed it?

Operation Sovereign Borders: Australia's Migration Policy

HD

› 30' (GER) › 2017 › NZZ

Australia's migration policy is considered one of the toughest in the world. Anyone without a visa trying to get to the 5th continent via the sea is either forced by mariners to return or detained on a remote island. However, Australia accepts about 14,000 refugees every year and integrates them into an internationally accepted system. And Australia's population is growing thanks to the annual immigration of some 200,000 people. Does the system serve as a model for other countries?

The Hero of Kamukunji – Fighting Against Terrorism

HD

› 30' (GER) › 2018 › WDR

Kamukunji is not just any old district in Kenya's capital city, Nairobi. It is the region that is home to the Muslim immigrants from Somalia and it is ground zero for the Somali terror militia, Al-Shabaab. Clive Wanguhi is spearheading the fight against their terrorism. His word is law as he and other men regularly patrol the region, picking up tidbits about the activities of the Al-Shabaab. He organizes freedom demonstrations against the terrorists and tries to unite the police with the people.

Ana Rosa and her Right for Child Labor

HD

› 30' (GER, ENG subs) › 2016 › AnaConda International, WDR

Eleven-year-old Ana Rosa works as a merchant at the market of Potosí, in the middle of Bolivia. Her family would not be able to survive without her wage. She loves her work and appreciates the new law that allows children from the age of 10 years to work. Even though the United Nations are fighting against this law, most children are grateful for their right to work. We follow kids who work at the market, on the streets or in mines, where their life is endangered – with neither contracts nor insurance.

SCIENCE . TECHNOLOGY

Healing Power of the Forest

HD

&gt; 30' (ENG, GER) &gt; 2021 &gt; NZZ

It is said to protect against cancer, to lower blood pressure, to calm the nervous system and sharpen the senses. Is the forest a miracle healer? What sounds like esotericism has been integrated into the treatment of traditional medicine. Guided awareness tours in the forest are supposed to prevent burnout, depression and heart attacks, to name but a few. Does that really make people healthier? Studies show that it has numerous positive effects on the mind and body.

Turning Points: How Crises Make Us Strong

HD

&gt; 30' (GER, ENG subs) &gt; 2021 &gt; NZZ

Can crises make us stronger and give our lives a new meaning? We accompany two people who are struggling with serious life crises. Joachim Schoss was physically disabled after an accident, and Youtube star Philipp Mickenbecker was diagnosed with cancer for the third time at the age of 23. Candidly and authentically, they both talk about their most difficult moments in life. What help do they accept and what do they manage alone? What helps them to not lose faith?

South Africa's Traditional Healing Plants

HD

&gt; 30' (GER, ENG subs) &gt; 2021 &gt; NZZ

Many medicines available in the Western world today have their origins from plants in Africa and Asia. In South Africa, the indigenous Khoi San people have developed extensive knowledge about plants over thousands of years. Who should own the rights of this knowledge? How should it be compensated? Traditional medicinal plants have attracted scientists once again due to the outbreak of the Covid-19 pandemic.

Hidden High Tech – Super-Technologies for the Mobility of Tomorrow

HD

&gt; 30' (ENG, GER) &gt; 2019 &gt; Infokontor, motorvision

Mobility. A concept that humans have pondered over for centuries, if not millennia. While experts keep coming up with the same questions: How can we transport more people and freight? How do we make mobility as safe as possible? And most of all: how do we make it environmentally friendly? We enter the world of "hidden high-tech" – super technologies intended to make mobility and our cities safer and cleaner.

Are Robots Better Humans?

HD

› 30' (GER) › 2017 › NZZ

Man or machine? That is the question. It is a question that casts a glance not too far into the future. Robots are already among us. 20 million of these intelligent machines can be found worldwide and their numbers are increasing. Will people still be needed when super computers are able to conduct tasks more efficiently than we can? A robot as a caretaker, a robot as a programmable spouse, a robot as a hyper intelligent threat. We take a daring look at the digitalized future.

Hymn to the Foot

HD

› 30' (GER) › 2016 › NZZ

High heels, stockings and nail polish enhance the eroticism of the foot. Feet are forms of instruments: the grace and power of the Prima ballerina, the virtuosity of organists and drummers, the precision of the football star or the foot-painter who uses her feet as hands. From the performing arts to the medical art and craft of the foot: the evolution from shoe inserts to casts, to life – like prosthetics made from silicone. An entertaining, informative portrait of the foot, which is both insightful and thought-provoking.

High Tech in Space

HD

› 30' (ENG, GER) › 2016 › infokontor, ntv

Though invisible to the human eye, satellites play a huge role in our daily lives. In this documentary, we will uncover the secrets of hidden data transmission while following the construction, transportation and activation of a satellite in outer space from a factory hall in the South of France into the cosmos. From the tiniest screw to the overall weight - every little detail has to be thoroughly and repeatedly checked - because in space there is no room for mistakes. We take you on a journey behind the scenes of the non visible data transfer of television and internet.

Rush of Air - The Dream of Flying

HD

› 30' (GER) › 2017 › NZZ

The dream of flying has existed since man began walking on two legs. To this day, hobbyists and engineers are working on devices that can bring them closer to that dream. A bush pilot in South Africa was fortunate enough to make his passion into a profession. By extracting the last bit from his plane, he was able to land securely on an extremely small area. Majestic airships are coming back a hundred years after their invention by Graf Zeppelin and the project "Solarimpuls 2016" has shown that one can power a machine only with solar energy.

Backstage Boeing 777 - Ready for Take Off

HD

› 30' (GER) › 2016 › NZZ

The most powerful engines in the world, a span of nearly 65 meters, a list price of 300 million dollars. We accompany the new giant bird to its acceptance in the Boeing shipyard in Seattle and on one of the first long-haul flights to Bangkok. For most, flying has long since become daily routine, but behind a successfully completed flight, there is a huge expenditure of technology, economy and safety. How do pilots prepare for crisis situations? Take a look behind the scenes of the aviation industry.

Nutrition - Joys and Sorrows of Eating

HD

Logistics of the Future

HD

› 30' (ENG, GER) › 2019 › Infokontor, motorvision

It would be hard to imagine our daily digital lives without modern logistics. We expect everything to arrive on time and online shopping is booming. After all, we live in turbulent times: digitalization, climate crisis, growing world population and political and economic instability. How does the logistics industry rise to such challenges? Our film takes us into the huge, fully connected warehouses of one of the world's largest logistics providers at work: Deutsche Post DHL Group.

Atom Mon Amour

HD

› 30' (GER) › 2018 › WDR

Nuclear power is dead, long live nuclear power! No other country loves its nuclear energy as much as France. It is part of the national identity. Germany wants to switch off, France, on the other hand, is experiencing the so-called atomic spring. The French nuclear reactors produce three quarters of the electricity. Anyone who points out the risks has a hard time - why does France think differently? We have embarked on a journey through the nuclear country, visiting fans and critics.

Ancestral Research: The Search for the Roots

HD

› 30' (GER) › 2016 › NZZ

The search for one's own roots often begins with a random find: photos, letters, souvenirs. Many hobby genealogists often begin with church records which can be found on the Internet. The largest database with eight billion entries is operated by the Mormons in Salt Lake City. In the country of immigrants, many have found traces of their ancestors on Ellis Island which was once the gateway to the US. Historians explore family histories, create chronicles and tribal trees. But DNA analysis goes back even further - it tells the origin of one's ancestors.

The Myth of Gingers

HD

› 30' (GER) › 2016 › NZZ

There have always been myths surrounding red hair. The world's rarest hair colour invites certain prejudices. Red-heads are considered sex bombs and men with red-hair are "barbarians". But do red-haired people actually have abilities that blondes or brunettes do not have? Mary Magdalene and Judas are mostly depicted with red hair, why? Today a lot of red-haired people are fighting against stigmatization and for reconnaissance. In the Irish town of Cork, there is an annual festival for redheads where they embrace and celebrate their uniqueness.
